
Hints for the manuscript layout

1. Basic matters

The ZEP publishes articles of all styles (from scientific and theoretical articles to essays, satires and field reports) in which problems of social development are reflected pedagogically and/or philosophically. Social development comprises regional, national and international relationships in regard to the dimension of time. The pedagogical and/or philosophical reflection is in a wider sense referred to existence and knowledge, to pedagogical fields of operation and research and to ethical questions on 'good', 'proper' living in the horizon of social development and social change towards social justice.

2. Reviewing criteria

The submitted articles are reviewed according to the following criteria:

1. The article should be related to the above outlined profile of the magazine.
2. The focus of the article should be sufficiently current or of general interest.
3. The article should also be adequately related to the interests of the readership of the ZEP (multipliers engaged in development education).
4. The argumentation should be set out clearly in a manner which is accessible to the readership of the ZEP.

3. Submission of a manuscript

The article shall be directly sent to a member of the editorial staff. With the transmittal of the manuscript, the author expresses – if there is no other information given – that the article is neither published otherwise nor handed in at the same time somewhere else (primary publication!). The submitted manuscript stays in any case (also in case of rejection) in the editorial office. With the acceptance of the article the copyright passes over to the editor of the magazine. In any case the authors receive feedback. Please be patient with us. Sometimes the reviewing process takes a bit longer since all members of the editorial staff read the articles and agree on them.

4. Manuscript length and format

- In general the article should not trespass 15 pages (2500 signs per page = altogether at most 35.000 signs incl. blanks) – including bibliography, explanatory notes and abstract.

- The abstract should be both in German and English.
- The texts have to be compatible with Microsoft-Word (.doc or .rtf). Manuscripts can be sent in on data medium or as email attachment.
- Please refrain from formatting.
- After the abstract 2-3 Keywords should be added in English and German.

5. Layout

- Accentuations in the text are to be italicised.
- Subheadings structure a text and elevate its didactic significance. If necessary they are added subsequently by the editorial department.
- On behalf of interdisciplinary readability, abbreviations are to be avoided.

6. Please also send in

- an abstract in German and English,
- the author's name and complete academic title,
- the complete address,
- a short biography – year of birth, professional career, current employment, (if necessary) social function/capacity, indication concerning publications and scientific interests/priorities,
- a passport photograph as illustration (see also 7.)

7. Pictures and Illustration

- Pictures, caricatures and tables for illustrating the article have to be available in good quality (rich in contrast, preferably black-white).
- Scanned or digital pictures need to have the resolution of at least 300 dpi.
- It also has to be considered that a meaningful motif and a reasonable cut-out (e.g. no cut heads) is chosen.
- Concerning the selection of others than the own pictures the regulations of copyright-rules have to be considered.
- In case the submitted pictures do not meet these criteria, they will not be inserted.

8. Explanatory notes and citations

- Scientific citations have to be marked as such. Annotations in the text should be numbered [e.g.: (1)] and should be outlined at the end of the document. The same is essential for footnotes. They also should be formatted as endnotes.
- Bibliographic references are not accepted in footnotes respectively endnotes.

- Bibliographic references in the text should be noted with name, year and pages number [e.g.: (Miller 1982, p. 16)]. To same titles published in the same year the suffixes a, b, c ... have to be added to the date. The suffixes then also recur in the bibliography.
 - The bibliography has to be arranged alphabetically and should contain the following notations:
 - Monographs: name, first name (year of publication): title. subtitle. place of publication (edition). (name of serial).
[e.g.: Miller, E. (2002): The pedagogical challenge. An introduction. Munich (3rd edition). (Society and pedagogy, Vol. 2).]
 - Handbook article: author, first name (year of publication): title. subtitle. place of publication. In: editor, first name: title. Subtitle. place of publication (edition), page number (title of serial).
[e.g. Miller, E./Smith, W. (2002): The second pedagogical challenge. A short introduction. In: Williams, R.: The human in society. Consequences of a paradigm. Munich (2nd edition), p. 12–45. (The responsible citizen, Vol. 14).]
 - Magazine article: author, first name (year of publication): title. subtitle. In: magazine – no abbreviations! – year or volume, issue number, page number.
[e.g.: Miller, E. (2002): The third pedagogical challenge. First results. In: Magazine for extensive pedagogy, Vol. 3, 4, p. 12–45].
 - Citations from the Internet:
 - in the text: author, year, page (just as other references);
 - in the bibliography: author: title of the article; published on: entire internet-address incl. links, date of the download.
 - The auto-formatting as hyperlink should be deleted! (No underlining!)
- [e.g. Smith, F.: Magazine on its way up high; published:
www.zep.de/zs/kjhtö=hts54/htd.html, 17.11.2009).

9. Final checklist for the Bibliography

Before handing in the manuscript, following has to be considered:

- Names of authors: The surname is listed before the first name. If there exist more than one author, the authors are to be separated by slashes.
- The names of the authors are to be bold (incl. the following colon).
- Each information is closed with a dot.
- In each statement of page numbers (from–until) there is no blank [e.g.: p. 2–5].

We are looking forward to receiving your articles!

The editors

Example of a Bibliography:

Literature:

Dolzer, H./Dütting, M./Galinski, D. (1998): Effects and side effects. An article by Misereor concerning the discussion on the acquisition of effects. Aachen/Hannover.

Development and cooperation (1996): Evaluation of success, Vol. 56, 8.

Lambert, A.-M./Prieur, M. (1994): Study on impact evaluation in development education. Ottawa.

Luhmann, N. (1982): Das Technologiedefizit der Erziehung und die Pädagogik. In: Luhmann, N./Schorr, K.-E. (Ed.): Zwischen Technologie und Selbstreferenz. Fragen an die Pädagogik. Frankfurt a.M., S. 11–39.

Miller, E. (2002a): The pedagogical challenge. An introduction. Munich (3rd edition). (Society and pedagogy, Vol. 2).

Miller, E. (2002b): The second pedagogical challenge. A short introduction. In: Williams, R.: The human in society. Consequences of a paradigm. Munich (2nd edition), p. 12–45. (The responsible citizen, Vol. 14).

Miller, E. (2002c): The third pedagogical challenge. First results. In: Magazine for extensive pedagogy, Vol. 3, 4, p. 12–45.